What is HAPPIER FAMILIES - CONNECTED?

Bringing up children is not easy and the current situation is causing many families more anxiety and stress and in need of some extra help. Our Family Support Mentors can offer support through phone, video chat or messaging to help you work through the issues you are currently facing, working together to achieve the outcomes that are right for your family.

You may feel isolated and struggling with your emotional health, you could be struggling to manage routines and behaviour, be worried about your family finances or going through relationship issues. You may just need someone to talk to.
